

Biesse S.p.A strengthens the Glass-Marble Division

Through its subsidiary Biesse America Inc., Biesse S.p.A. has signed a preliminary agreement to acquire the "distribution and service" branch of business from the company AGM Glass Machinery Inc, which has been the US distributor for Intermac (glass and stone-working machinery and systems) for 20 years; the operation is expected to be concluded early in April 2007.

Pesaro, 19th February 2007 – Biesse S.p.A., the industrial Group from Pesaro listed in the STAR segment of the Italian Stock Exchange, through its subsidiary Biesse America Inc., has signed a preliminary agreement to acquire the "distribution and service" branch of business from the company AGM Glass Machinery Inc, which has been the US distributor for Intermac (glass and stone-working machinery and systems) for 20 years. The operation is expected to be concluded early in April 2007.

AGM (www.agmusa.com), founded 25 years ago (1982), has its main headquarters in Charlotte (NC) and sells machines and tools used to process flat sheets of glass. Over the past ten years it has branched out into the rapidly expanding sector of natural and synthetic stone-working machinery, where it is a recognised leader in the US market.

AGM ended its 2006 financial year (31 May) with a turnover of 31.3 million US Dollars, and an EBIT margin of 5.5%.

The branch of the business involved in the agreement covers approximately 85% of the original company perimeter, based on revenue.

The branch of the business involved in the agreement is valued at 3 (three) times the forecast EBIT value for 2007 (which is expected to increase slightly compared to the previous year), to which will be added the difference between the assets and liabilities registered for the branch of business acquired, as at the closing date.

The branch of the business will be taken over by the newco Intermac Inc., which is 100% controlled by Biesse America Inc.

The operation is a cash deal, with the exception of certain items on the asset side, subject to potential settlement.

Frank Micalizzi, one of the founders of the company along with his brothers Mike and Matthew, will be working alongside the President and CEO of Biesse America Inc, Federico Broccoli, to implement the new development plan.

This operation is part of the project for growth, encompassing external lines that Biesse has outlined in its three-year industrial plan.

The positive results achieved by the Group and a steady increase in available financial resources mean this selective expansion process can go ahead with determination, the aim being to supplement the range of products offered by the Group and to control distribution channels in strategic markets.

Press Release

"The US market is an absolute priority for the Biesse Group", commented the Biesse Chairman Roberto Selci, immediately after signature of the agreement. "I would like to thank the Micalizzi family for making Intermac a leader in North America. Now we want to develop a network with an unprecedented level of distribution and human resources quality, whose primary focus will be on the Service provided for our customers".
